Law students called to bar

A somewhat unique ceremony took place in Kelowna last week when 15 students were called to the bar during the convention of the Law Society of British Columbia. Mr. Justice Harold McInnes presided. It marked the first time that the ceremony was photographed for Canadian newspapers, and it was also the first time that such a ceremony had been conducted outside of Victoria and Vancouver.

Back row: Stephen H. Green, Vancouver; Robert L. Monaghan, Victoria; William J. Solloway, George Nichols Lee, Thomas Brian Prentice, William O. Forbes, Ralph M. J. Hutchinson and Mrs. Margaret A. Harling, all of Vancouver.

Glenmore growers censure B.C. Tree Fruits for "disastrous prices" received for crop

Freight rate concession refused by two railways

By W. Beaver-Jones
(Courier News Editor)

Canadian railways have declined assistance to B.C. fruit and vegetable growers by way of exemption from the seven percent interim increase in freight rates which become effective across Canada this week.

Word to this effect was received by B.C. Tree Fruits this morning.

The growers' organization appealed to the board of transport commissioners at the recent hearing in Ottawa, pointing to the predicament confronting the fruit industry in that returns had been substantially reduced for the past three years, and that growers cannot afford to absorb any new increase in transportation charges.

Representatives of the industry interviewed railway officials in Montreal last week and were informed that no action would be taken towards providing relief for B.C. fruit and vegetables at this time.

Unless more favorable treatment can be negotiated with the railways in the interval, a spokesman for the industry stated it leaves the matter open until September when the transport commissioners will hold further hearings on the case. Board is expected to hand down its final decision on the original application of the railways for a 15 percent general increase and whether "hold downs" should be applied in certain cases.

Officials of Tree Fruits stated they will not be satisfied to let the issue rest until September, and will do everything possible to achieve a more favorable solution with the minimum delay.

Glenmore fruit growers last night went on record censuring B.C. Tree Fruits "for the disastrous prices paid to growers for their 1955 apple crop, especially for McIntosh and Jonathan varieties." In one of the most spirited meetings witnessed here in many years, a resolution to this effect was passed by a vote of 29-19. A similar resolution was passed by the South and East Kelowna locals of the BCFGA a couple of weeks ago.

Plight of the Okanagan fruit grower was disclosed by M. D. Wilson, a veteran Glenmore orchardist, when he said the average return for McIntosh apples was between 60 and 70 cents a box. It costs $1.00 or more to produce a box. Average net return depends to a large extent on packinghouse charges. Some growers received a net return of around $1.00 per box.

The apple pool was closed by B.C. Tree Fruits several weeks ago, and final returns were made available to growers through a circular. For the first time these figures were refused the press.

B.C. Tree Fruits was formed in the eastern Canada and American fruit officials as a "model marketing agency".

The resolution calling for a vote of censure, was passed despite the pleas of Jim Snowsall, chairman of the board of governors of Tree Fruits. It was kicked around for about two hours before being put to a secret ballot.

Would eliminate committees

M. D. Wilson, who has been in the fruit growing business for 30 years, sparked the debate. He promised if the resolution passed, he would make several suggestions to the board of governors, with a view of streamlining the growers' selling agency.

Mr. Wilson later suggested that: 1. Present manager R. P. Walrod be given complete and independent charge of Tree Fruits. At the present time he has 23 committees "hanging around his neck, and can't make a change in staff without the consent of the governors", he charged. If the manager has complete and independent control, growers could then point the finger at one man. He suggested the 23 committees be disbanded.

2. That the manager and others be paid on a bonus system. A minimum price would be set, and if the final returns are higher than the agreed minimum "then they should get a thumping good bonus".

3. That the present system of brokers be scrapped. Instead of having one broker in principle marketing areas, there should be at least two.

In leading the attack, Mr. Wilson said the pre-packaging program adopted by Tree Fruits last season cost $80,000. He then outlined the per box deductions. Growers had 10.65 cents deducted for the operation of the governors; one cent for general advertising; 5.52 cents for "specific" advertising; and 1.50 cents for the tree fruit board levy. A total of 18.67 cents. Rebates amounted to 3.72 cents per box, leaving a net per box deduction of 14.95 cents.

deductions total $1,035,000

On the basis of a 5 1/2 million box apple crop last year, a total of $785,000 was taken from the apple grower, in addition to $250,000 from the worst in history," he said. "Don't feel you are being sold out. You are not as badly off as before the war. My whole stake is tied up in this industry, and while I am an officer of Tree Fruits I will endeavor to the best of my ability to protect this industry," Mr. Snowsall said.

He asked the growers what alternative they had if they threw Tree Fruits overboard. "We have many problems and weaknesses. Our problems will never be solved by Jim Snowsall, and several other strong supporters of Tree Fruits pleaded not to throw the sales out, but does irreparable damage."

frost damage serious

Mr. Snowsall thought the frost damage is a far more serious problem. Mr. Snowsall asked why this "master plan" was not tabled with the board of governors for consideration. The former replied that he had no "master plan" but was willing to join in a discussion designed to improve the marketing situation so that the grower would get more money for his fruit.

Lake reaches peak level

Okanagan Lake has reached its peak level for 1956. This was indicated by figures supplied by the city. This morning's reading was 102.71, compared with 102.00 a week ago. However, it is still several inches below the agreed maximum of 102.5.

Well-known businessman, Gordon R. C. Kerr passes

One of Kelowna's prominent business men, Gordon Robert Cameron Kerr, of Okanagan Mission, died in hospital last night. Mr. Kerr suffered a heart attack Monday morning, followed by a stroke a few hours later. He was 67.

Born in Sherbrooke, Quebec, he was the Kelowna Gryo Club, a member was educated at St. Charles college, of St. George's Macdonald Lodge, and came west in 1912 directly to Kelowna. From 1912 until 1921 he was engaged in fruit farming with the Kelowna post office. He started the Kelowna post office as a letter carrier in Nelson on July 5, 1928.

Mr. Kerr was an ardent sportsman, and during his college days, he was one of the top athletes in Okanagan. Members of the St. George's Macdonald Lodge will act as pall-bearers.

Funeral services will be conducted from Day's Funeral Chapel at 3:30 p.m. Friday, July 7, at the St. George's Macdonald Lodge.

More cars and passengers carried on ferries over holiday compared with '55

Total of 10,305 vehicles and 15,885 passengers were transported across Lake Okanagan by the three ferries over the long holiday weekend.

This compared with 9,802 vehicles and 10,444 passengers over July 1 holiday last year. Total of 338 trips were made during the four days, 27 more than in 1955.

Early apples three weeks ahead of '55

Transparent apples are about three weeks earlier than last year, and while carlot volume is not anticipated until the end of the week, first shipments have already been made from early producing areas, according to B.C. Tree Fruits.

Peak of the cherry harvesting in the Oliver-Osoyoos area has been reached, and greater volume is moving from Penikese and Summerland districts. Cherry harvesting in Kelowna area will get underway this weekend.

Showery weather has continued to affect total crop volume.

Small quantities of apricots are moving from Oliver. With suitable weather during the next few days, harvesting will be underway by July 11. Cots are sizing well and exceptionally good quality is anticipated.

Cumbersome have now reached lot volume and demand continues steadily. Demand for early cabbage continues to exceed current supplies available. Deliveries, however, are tapering off rapidly.

First deliveries of semi-ripe field tomatoes will leave Osoyoos district today.

Tree Fruits welcomes announcement

Announcement by Trade Minister C. D. Howe that controls provided by the British West Indies trade liberalization scheme had been removed with respect to fresh apples, was welcomed by B.C. Tree Fruits.

While aggregate shipments to Trinidad, Barbados, British Guiana and Jamaica could not be deemed large, there has been an increasing demand in recent years resultant upon the improvement in economic conditions throughout the area, it was stated.

The withdrawal of regulations, which have been related to average shipments of 1946, 1947 and 1948, should result in a substantial increase in sales in 1956. It was stated. However, shipping facilities present a restrictive element in so far as taking full advantage of the potential demand.

W. J. Burgess appointed postmaster

W. J. Burgess, of Prince Rupert, has been appointed postmaster of the Kelowna post office. He started with Canada post office as a letter carrier in Nelson on July 5, 1928.

In 1912 he left Nelson to join the B.C.A.F. After serving overseas, he returned to the Kelowna city and was there until 1952. During the last three years at Nelson he held the post of supervisor.

In 1952 he was appointed postmaster at Prince Rupert, and remained there until his recent appointment here.

Construction industry booming in local area

Figures released this morning disclosed that building during the first six months of the year is valued at $1,890,458, an increase of $747,508 compared with the same period last year.

Building in the city of Kelowna up to the end of June was valued at $1,333,270; Glenmore, $185,463, and the regulated rural area, $371,725. The six month city building figure is closely nudging the record year of 1948 when building permits were valued at $1,537,472.

House construction topped June building figures, when eight permits were issued for $96,000. The June construction figure was $207,500. Total of 38 permits were issued during the 30-day period.

Regatta postponed? heaven forbid!

Has the Kelowna Regatta been postponed? Heaven forbid! Water show chairman Dick Parkinson frantically picked up the telephone and contacted all available news sources to spike such a rumor.

C. M. Defieux, public relations manager for Pacific National Exhibition, wrote saying he heard a rumor to this effect, stating it probably originated through confusion with the Chilliwack Cherry Carnival being cancelled.

"Seattle our regatta? Never," quipped Parkinson. "It'll be bigger and better this year."

This year marks the golden jubilee of the regatta which started with a few sailing races. It is now rated the largest water show in Canada.

Big splash is scheduled for August 8-11.

Fatality mars holiday

Motels jammed to capacity and restaurants do landoffice business as hundreds spend Dominion Day weekend in Kelowna district

The long holiday weekend in Kelowna area was marred by one traffic fatality, while another man is confined to hospital as a result of a second automobile accident. Total of 13 people died in weekend accidents throughout the province.

Dead is George M. Truett, 24, of Vancouver. The motorcyclist was said to have been travelling towards Vernon on Highway 97, about two miles east of Kelowna near the intersection of Spall Road, when he smashed head-on into an oncoming vehicle. There were no witnesses to the crash but it is believed that Truett was passing a car going in the same direction and failed to see the 1949 sedan coming at him. He died two hours after admittance to hospital. Inquest into the death will be held Friday.

James A. Carnes, 2177 Woodlawn, is reported in "fair" condition in hospital, following an accident on the west side.

Cause of the mishap has not been determined, but it is believed the car was forced off the road before it rolled. The vehicle was completely demolished.

Mr. Truett died from multiple fractures.

Born at Robson, B.C., he was a former Kelowna resident, having resided here with his parents and played here with his parents and his father worked here. For the past ten years the family has resided in Vancouver, where the deceased was

Ogo seen basking off aquatic

Ogo was seen for the first time in Lake Okanagan this year, basking in the blue waters about 50 yards west of Ogoopog Stadium.

And you can take the word of four young ladies—Marilyn Henderson, Jean Shilcock, Wendy Martin and Barbara Toppman, that Ogo is no mythical monster. The girls did not see his head, but they caught a glimpse of the humps of his body.

Funeral and cremation took place yesterday, on charges ranging from $100 to $1,000.

U.S. started flowing into Kelowna Friday night, and by Saturday noon, cars waiting for the ferries on the west side were lined up as far back as the cut-off for the new bridge.

By mid-afternoon, Saturday, hotel, motel and auto court operators had "no vacancy" signs out.

The auto court operators had a hectic time. Mrs. G. H. Toner, of the Bestmotel court, said the situation was worse than it has ever been.

Saturday night, she said, dozens of travellers were turned away. Although there were many tourists lodged in private homes, some were forced to sleep in their cars.

Mrs. Jack McPherson, Regatta City court, reported that the establishment had been full since Saturday morning, and most patrons did not leave until late Monday.

"TEXT TOWN"

House trailers and tents were being used for sleeping accommodation, at almost every wide spot on the road between Vernon and Penikese. The new government campsites between Kelowna and Penikese were popular places for outdoor sleeping.

A "tent town" sprang up around the city of Kelowna. More than 100 tents jammed the area, overlooking Shola Charles, in Victoria; James, Edgar, Dale, and dozens more lived the Douglas, Roger and Alvin, all of Vancouver, and Clifford, with the B.C.A.F. at Camp Borden, Ont.; also two grandsons.

SPORTS

By GEORGE INGLIS

DOUBLE, DOUBLE...

The Dominion Day weekend, which brought a well-earned rest and long three days of loafing to the majority of Kelownians, was an action-filled period for the sportswriters and broadcasters, with baseball tournaments, track and field meets, gymkhanas and divers other sporting events filling the calendar.

Two biggest events in the Regatta City were the Interior Track and Field meet on Saturday in the City Park oval, and the baseball tournament in the Elks' Stadium on Monday.

Both events were highly successful in their own ways, and attracted some 2,000 fans, with the slender pickings that were left from those who couldn't get away for the weekend.

Certainly the track and field meet is an established event in Kelowna, and is showing itself to be more popular each year, thanks to vigorous work on the part of its backers, who are bringing in a better card of athletes by upping the standards of the meet.

The ball tournament succeeded beyond the expectations of the Orioles' executive, also, and they are now kicking around the idea of having an eight-team, two-day tournament next year, with the keen much higher.

But don't let anyone tell you these things are not a lot of work, worry and trouble for those who work to put them on.

SPRITELY SPRINTER

Diminutive Mike Agostini, the soft-spoken Trinidadian who is in a fair way to becoming one of the fastest things in spikes in the world, put on a wonderful show in Saturday's track and field meet, and was worth the price of admission himself.

A smooth jumping performance by Enderby's Jerry Reimer and Vancouver's Ken Grant in the high jump, proved to be the first half of a duel, which ended in a draw, when Jerry won here and Ken won in Vancouver Police sports on Monday. These two boys are about the tops in Canada for young high jumpers.

Larry Yakimovitch of Vernon proved that he is no slouch himself, running right on Agostini's heels in the 100 and 220. The chunky little blonde has real top calibre potentialities.

Dennis Casey turned in a fine performance on the high jump, considering the length of time he has been at the sport, exhibiting nice form in his flat roll.

Stars John Pavelich, Marie Depree, Jerry Swan, turned in their usual high calibre performances. Marie set a Canadian record only to have it broken in the east on the same day.

Outstanding local performance was turned in by four girls—Bev Pitts, Barbara Marshall (Rutland), Sally McCallum, and Jill Wilsdon—with their second place in the women's relay.

The meet was tops, and a credit to the city—all we need is more local track and field athletes.

DAY OF REST (?)

This week the peace of Kamloops' Sunday may be punctuated by the odd staccato remark, as the men behind the scenes of the OSHL get together in the Hotel Plaza for the annual league meeting.

This year cannot help but be the year for stiff discussion, after last year's apathy results in the latter-season holocaust it did. A repeat of any or all of the unhealthy causes of the big bellyache will deal hockey in the Valley a blow from which it will have an uneven chance of recovery.

Should the Packers' exec be any indication, the meeting will be far better ordered and the business more concisely laid out and dealt with. Last year the casual approach to this vital bit of administration in a quarter-million dollar industry was ludicrous or unforgivable, depending on your view point.

However, this year the teams have been voicing their ideas along parallel lines, and seem to be agreed on some of the needs of the league even before they get together in conference.

It is fairly well agreed that the salaries must be lower next year, than the general run of players' wages totalled up to this year. The need for a balanced schedule, with the exclusion of the Kootenay swing, and the inclusion of regular hockey nights, seems to be agreed on.

Dollar hockey throughout the Valley seems to be in store for hockey fans.

As far as the Packers themselves are concerned, they are going to get to the meeting with the intentions of voting against any extension of the president's term of office. This subject is worthy of a lot of discussion, since the position is at present not a paid one, and yet demands a great deal of specialized knowledge of diplomacy, a sound unbiased judgment, and an unswerving devotion to the good of the game in the valley. The qualities are hard to find, and it certainly requires a great deal of energy and thought on the league's part to assess the men purported by the individual clubs to have these qualities.

A lot of time can be devoted to this subject, without being wasted.

Another subject the Packers' reps are going to be firm on is the matter of officials for next year. After the farcical circumstances that surrounded a few of the games last year, this is another subject that needs much airing. One of the best answers seems to be the formation of a referees' school, to be held before next season gets underway.

School graduates could be graded as to their ability to hold down ref or linesman jobs, and the type of game they were capable of handling, i.e., juvenile, intermediate, senior, league and playoffs, etc.

A number of other subjects are slated for discussion, some of them problems pertinent to one or the other of the clubs, but it seems quite evident that the saving factor of the whole meeting will be absolute sincerity and truthfulness on the part of all clubs.

All things being equal, I'll be seeing you at the hockey games!

GOOSE FLESH GALORE

Just a few words of congratulations to all the guys and gals who suffered the Arctic winds in their abbreviated costumes on Tuesday night, to stage the first Aquacade of the season.

It was a wonderful effort, with a high calibre of entertainment, considering the handicap of cold wind and water. If it is a taste of things to come this season, you could do a lot worse than to mark Tuesday night with a red ring to remind you to attend the regular weekly shows.

A special hello to Bill Patrick, BEG tower diving champ, who performed Tuesday, and to Irene MacDonald, Canadian women's springboard champion, who will be here soon. Glad to have you back... both of you.

Seath, and J. K. Campbell. Other members of the B.C. rink were Howard Williams, S. Fletcher, and I. Caldwell. The B.C. rink won on the last end by one point.

The Kelowna rink's entries were eliminated from the grand challenge cup competition, but continued in the Province Cup competition.

FIRE FORGOTTEN

TROIS-RIVIERES, Que. (CP)—The anniversary of the "big fire" now passes almost unnoticed here. It was on a June day in 1903 that a match dropped accidentally set off the worst fire in the town's history, destroying 350 buildings.

Track star applauded

Applauding Mike Agostini, left, after winning the 220 and 100-yard events at the Interior Track and Field Championships, are Larry Yakimovitch, Vernon, centre, and Dave Inwood, Vancouver, right. Yakimovitch ran second in both the events, and Inwood was third, also in the two runs. More than 800 persons jammed the stands to watch some of B.C.'s top athletes during the meet. Agostini was running for Fresno state during the meet.

Fourteen interior track records smashed and one new Canadian mark set at meet

Out of 22 events held in the Interior Track and Field Championships, here Saturday evening, 14 meet records were smashed, and one Canadian record fell.

More than 90 contestants were registered for the meet representing, Vernon, Kelowna, Enderby, Kamloops, Vancouver Olympic Club, Vancouver Western, Newton AAA, and Vancouver Arctic.

Marie Depree, under the colors of Arctic Club, threw the discus 132 feet 6 1/2 inches, adding nearly a foot to the Canadian mark of 131 feet 7 inches. She also broke her own meet record of 123 feet 6 inches which she set here last year.

Jerry Reimer, Enderby, came close to setting a new Canadian record in the high jump event. He topped the meet record of 6 feet 2 inches, with a jump of 6 feet 2 1/2 inches. In an exhibition jump, after failing to clear the bar at 6 feet 4 7/8 inches for a new Canadian mark, he finally cleared on his fifth try.

Reimer beat out Ken Grant of Arctic Club whose best try was 6 feet 1 1/2 inches.

Vernon's Larry Yakimovitch and world-famous Mike Agostini, Fresno, U.S., battled it out in two of the most exciting events of the evening.

Agostini won the 100-yard dash, a time of 9.9 seconds set in 1950 fell, as both flashed across the finish line with times of 9.8 and 9.9.

Yakimovitch was also crowding Agostini in the 220-yard dash. A time of 21.7 seconds set in 1950 fell, as both flashed across the finish line with times of 21.6 and 21.7.

Packers exec. choose two reps. for league meeting

Kelowna Packers' official two-man delegation to the OSHL annual meeting in the Blue Room of the Plaza Hotel in Kamloops this Sunday at 2 p.m. will have clear-cut directives to follow, as the result of the meeting of the hockey executive held Tuesday night in the Memorial Room of the arena.

The delegates, Packers' president A. R. Pollard and director Fred Day, will be accompanied by four other directors and representatives of the press and radio.

Alternate delegates, who will be the league president's term of office empowered to act in the absence of the executive, were named as J. L. Gordon and A. Pollard.

Discussion was unnecessary on the matter of a swing through the Kootenays, since the hockey club has agreed unanimously last year that such a move was impractical and unprofitable, as well as being a player-killer. Delegates will vote firmly against the repetition of the swing.

Lower wages will be advocated, as the basic move in the adoption of a budget within the reach of the clubs involved.

HOCKEY NIGHTS
The delegates will advocate definite hockey nights, with a schedule drawn up by Mr. Pollard being presented to the league, entailing two home games one week, and one the next, through a 27 home game schedule Saturday and Tuesday will be the tentative nights suggested for Kelowna by the delegates.

The Packers executive declared itself to be against the extension of Park.

First game, on Sunday afternoon, was a free-hitting affair, with Aces losing out to Kitsilano, 9-8. Sunday evening game was a 1-0 victory for the Vancouver team.

Pat Wuest started the first game for Aces, but Olive Pipe took over in the second inning, and pitched the remainder of that game, and the whole distance in the second. Lee Johnston pitched Kitsilano's first game, and Derro Gardis worked the second.

Aces started off strong with five runs on singletons by Eleanor Erhardt, Bev Pitt, Jean Schneider, Pat Kelly, and Mavis Gordon. Kathy Little and Diane Beach replied for the Vancouver team.

The tables were turned in the second inning, however, when Aces earned only two runs by Mary Agostini broke the record set by Bobby Kerr in 1903 for the 220. Agostini's time in the 100 in the Kelowna meet was 9.8.

Running for Fresno, University, the Trinidad youth will represent the U.S. in the Olympics, running the 100-220-440, if his present plans materialize.

Boulevard grass cutting urged

Belief that the public works department should pay more attention to cutting grass on boulevards, and also grass and weeds on the strip between the hard-surfaced roadway and the curb, was expressed by acting-mayor Dick Parkinson at council meeting last week.

Mr. Parkinson thought this was "one of the weaknesses" of the department, and thought a greater effort should be made in improving boulevards.

While on the subject of city beautification, Ald. Maurice Meikle thought the city should take action in cases where property owners refuse to cut weeds on privately-owned land. After a notice has been sent, the city should cut the weeds if action has not been taken, and the property owner liable accordingly.

Swimmers give excellent performance despite cool wind and choppy water

Around 200 people shivered their way through Kelowna's first Aquacade of the 1936 season on Tuesday night, heartened by the dauntless performance of the participants, who braved the cool wind and choppy water in the best traditions of show business.

Aquatic president Harold Long officiated at the opening, assisted by Lady-of-the-Lake Jeryl Wilson, with Jim Panton handling the chores of M.C.

Mr. Long, in an address of welcome, made joking reference to the "Sunny Okanagan", and welcomed British Empire Games tower diving champion Bill Patrick, of Calgary. The young diver, M. Long said, has his eye on Olympic competition this year, and will train for the summer in Kelowna, participating regularly in the Aquacades.

FREE TUITION Irene MacDonald, the Canadian women's spring board champion, will be here for the next Aquacade. Mr. Long said, and will also train here during the summer. Both divers are available for free tuition, Mr. Long said.

Miss Wilson, clad in her crown, robes of office, a white bathing suit, and a plentiful supply of goose pimples, and bade the spectators welcome, and officially opened the show, handing it over to Mr. Panton.

Bob Wolfe and Ross Lander started things "with a bang", and continued to give the crowd a fine brand of amusing entertainment throughout the show.

Mea Mitchell, youthful speed swimmer, won a sprint, one length of the pool, using flippers for speed, in the first item on the show.

APPLE BOX RACE Six boys staged an apple box race, showing plenty of ability, with none of them getting dunked in the cold water.

Mrs. Irene Athans, wife of Dr. George Athans, Kelowna's "diving doctor", and former Canadian champion in decorative swimming, did a "Goddess of the Flame" number. Mrs. Athans swam, gyrated, gracefully, turned slightly blue, and never missed a beat, showing the form that made her a champion.

Mr. Patrick gave his diving exhibition from the ten metre tower, in spite of the danger of the high wind deflecting him.

Showing wonderful form in his five dives, Patrick performed a backward, 1 1/2 somersault, with a 1 1/2 twist; a hand-stand out through; 2 1/2 forward pike; flying forward 1 1/2 somersault in the pike position, and a forward 1 1/2 somersault with a full twist.

Joan McKinley, Aquatic head lifeguard and rising young rhythmic swimmer, performed a graceful number to the tune "Lisbon Antigua", which drew a good round of applause.

A clown swimming number by "Duke Kelownie Annie", (Mr. Panton), drew an enthusiastic response, especially from the Saskatchewan people in the audience.

The Aquacades are a regular Tuesday night feature throughout the summer, until the Regatta.

Square dancing starts tonight

Square dancing will take place in the Aquatic tonight at 8 p.m., the first of the season.

Official opening of the Aquacades will take place next Thursday, July 12, at 8 p.m.

C. H. Jackson had no interest in apartment block

The late C. H. Jackson had no interest in the Mayfair apartments, it has been pointed out to The Courier. A recent story stated that Mr. Jackson was part-owner in the apartment block. This should have been the old Mayfair hotel, which was demolished several years ago.

Present owner of the Mayfair apartments is J. J. Weingardt. He purchased the apartment block in 1947.

In the city of content, Where our happy hours are spent, It's location you will find, Lies within the state of mind, We may move around about, In the states of gloom and doubt, But the good old state of mind, Has contentment for mankind.

Many Americans guests of local theatre manager

"Goodwill Ambassador" Will Harper, was host to many American visitors last night on the occasion of the July 4 holiday. Scores of U.S. citizens arrived in Kelowna yesterday to spend the holiday here, and Mr. Harper invited them to attend the Paramount Theatre, guests of Famous Players.

An annual affair, Mr. Harper personally greeted the visitors as they entered the theatre. He arranged to have a special film for the tourists.

Many showers held in honor of recent bride

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Schneider and Mrs. Peter Bohn, and about twenty friends gathered to honor the bride-elect. The hostesses assisted the guest of honor in opening her gifts, after which a social evening was held and refreshments were served.

Members of the hospital office staff, of which Mrs. Burnell was a member, honored their fellow-worker at a miscellaneous shower held last Tuesday, when many lovely gifts were presented to the bride-elect last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Carruthers, pioneer residents, to observe golden wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Carruthers, of 1694 Pender, not only will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary tomorrow, but also more than fifty years of residence in Kelowna. ## Reception held for popular valley couple OKANAGAN CENTRE — Beautifully decorated for the occasion by the bride's friends, the Centre Community Hall was the setting for the reception last Saturday night for more than 200 friends of Mr. Robert (Bob) Henry Campbell and his bride, the former Miss Ethel Ulrich, whose marriage took place earlier in the evening. Also in the receiving line were the parents of the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. D. Ulrich, of Golden, and Mr. and Mrs. D. H. "Pi" Campbell, of Rutland.

Until her graduation in 1952 from the Rutland High, the bride was a popular resident of Okanagan Centre, and since that time has been employed in office work in Kelowna. The groom, too, has been equally popular in Rutland, which accounted for the large number of friends who were present to wish them well.

Mr. H. J. Van Ackeren proposed the toast to the bride, after which refreshments were served. Mrs. E. C. Nyrens and Mrs. A. Weighen poured. Dancing was enjoyed until after midnight, and, as July 1, the bride's birthday dawned, "many happy birthdays" was added to the good wishes of the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell slipped away for a few days to be spent south of the border, after which they will be at home in Kelowna.

Teatime topics

Specially Written for The Courier By OLI DAUM Canadian Press Staff Writer

Push-button stoves and automatic washing machines aren't the only modern inventions this year's bride has to cope with. She'll also be entrusted with the care of her husband's precious non-iron shirts.

Probably her husband has been managing adequately with the drip-dry technique, and from now on he'll be expecting his shirts to be whiter and the collars smoother than ever before.

The newest thing in men's shirts are those of terylene. A new Canadian synthetic fabric, experts say, it needs little or no ironing and won't turn yellow in detergents. They say it's easy to keep the shirts looking fresh.

But the bride who is particular about her husband's appearance might like to hear the shirt-maker's instructions for maintaining that band-box look.

Terylene shirts are best washed by hand because the machine may put creases in the fabric which would need ironing. But if a machine is used shirts should not be put through the wringer. They should be lifted from the wet rinse water and hung on a wooden hanger to dry.

Fasten the top button and smooth the collar and cuffs between the thumb and forefinger. Don't expect miracles—any wrinkle in the wet fabric will likely still be there when it's dry.

If you're extra fussy—a common characteristic of brides—you can touch up the shirt with an iron. But make sure the iron is relatively cool. A rayon setting provides all the heat necessary to make terylene immaculate.

SPEAK UP Some women may shake their heads and moan that designers dictate fashion to them.

"We have a choice but only what designers give us," is an oft-heard complaint. That's true to some extent, but consumers do influence designers' creations.

Designers and manufacturers, too, often take their cues from the little woman's shopping habits. What she demands one season is usually on the market the next.

For instance, 100 manufacturers meeting at London, Ont., said they are producing blouses to match their skirts. This started after retailers reported their customers were asking for it.

Manufacturers are also putting bells back on dresses and taking their cue from millinery's request. Evening dresses are featuring detachable net skirts and jackets. Mothers who wanted ensembles for their children are getting sweaters and detachable cuffs to match cotton dresses.

So you see women don't always have to take what they get—but they do have to let manufacturers know what they want.

TRAVELLING TIP Travel accessories are catering to the easy washability of today's wardrobes. This year's stores are offering lightweight plastic clothes pegs, little envelopes of detergents for the nightly wash and even travelling clotheslines for hotel room use.

Well-known couple exchange vows

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH STANLEY THOMSON

Blue delphinium and pink carnations decorated First United Church, Kelowna, last Saturday, for the 2:00 p.m. wedding uniting Dorothy Eva, youngest daughter of Mrs. Alice Phipps, of East Kelowna, and the late Mr. James Phipps; and Kenneth Stanley Thomson, of Okanagan Mission, younger son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Thomson.

White satin ribbon and multi-colored sweetpeas graced the pews, and the Rev. H. S. Leitch performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Edwin M. Field, the bride wore a princess line waist-length gown of white brocade satin with a fitted bodice featuring a wide "V" neckline and long-point sleeves. The full skirt was worn over a crinoline. Her fingertip veil fell from a small hat of white brocade satin adorned with lily-of-the-valley and embroidered with seed pearls. She carried a Colonial bouquet of red roses and white stephanotis, and her necklace and earrings of gold leaves with blue settings were a gift of the groom.

Bridesmaid Miss Marion Wilson, of East Kelowna, wore a waltz-length gown of yellow organza embellished with white roses and finished with a Peter Pan collar. Completing her costume were accessories and lace hat in white, and pearl necklace and earrings. She carried a Colonial bouquet of yellow daisies centred by a blue iris.

Precedent set as fifteen people called to B.C. bar

A colorful touch was added to the B.C. Bar Association convention held in Kelowna last week, when 13 men and two women were called to the bar in the new Kelowna court house by Mr. Justice Harold McGinnis of the Supreme Court of B.C., formerly of Penticton.

The solemn ceremony is believed to be the first of its kind to be recorded for radio broadcast, and photographed for the newspapers, in B.C. history. It was also the first time that such a ceremony has been held outside of Vancouver and Victoria.

The 13 men and one of the women, having finished their one year term, completing their articles, and passed their oral examination, were admitted to the bar. One of the women, Mrs. Margaret Stevenson of Victoria, was called as a solicitor, but not admitted to the bar. T. G. Bouson-Collins of Kamloops, bench for the county of Yale, introduced the candidates to Mr. Justice McGinnis, and Ross Outman, district registrar of the supreme court of the province, officiated.

GOLD MEDALIST

William J. Worrall, of Vancouver, one of the new lawyers, was a gold medalist at UBC last year.

Another fledgling lawyer, John N. Whittaker of Vancouver, was watched closely by his well-known father, the Hon. Mr. Justice N. Whittaker, judge of the Supreme Court of B.C. Others admitted were: Miss Shirley Ellen Kay McLeod, Robert Thomas Erice, Russell Victor Stanton, Victor Robert Bennett, Stephen Herbert Green, William Jean Solloway, George Nicholas Lee, Thomas Brian Prentice, William O'Malley Forbes, Ralph Maurice J. Hutchinson, all of Vancouver.

From Victoria, Gerald Richard Coultas and Robert Louis Monaghan.

Members of the bar association and admitted guests filled the small court room to capacity for the impressive ceremony, which took place on Friday afternoon.

Cherry growers cast anxious eyes to sky

Central Okanagan cherry growers are casting anxious eyes to the sky this morning, fearful that additional rain will cause heavy damage to their crops. Cherry picking in this area will be general by this weekend.

Last night's precipitation amounted to 20 inch. While the crop will only amount to about ten percent of a normal year, due to the November freeze, growers who have a good crop will get top price for their produce.

Heavy rain during the next few days would cause the tender skins to split.

ANGLE-LORE

Where and how to get the best fishing

By JIM TREADGOLD

With fine weather for fishing this largest around three pounds. The past week, the fishermen have been also the Red Carey fly and Small Yellow Flatfish on the troll. To my mind, dry sedge fly fishing is the best trout fishing there is.

All fishing resorts were filled to capacity for the Dominion Day holiday, and all lakes in the district were heavily fished. The weather over the holiday was ideal for good fishing, not to hot and some excellent reports have been coming in. Fishing in our mountain lakes is expected to remain good until we get some real hot weather.

A few more reports have come in from Okanagan Lake with the rock areas improving for the spin fishermen. Vince Curran reports the lake as excellent in the Poplar Point area, using the Tee spoon and the brass Davis troll, with the largest of his catch weighing four and eight ounces. The largest reported was also taken near Poplar Point by F. Schleppe, of Calgary, a 5 1/2 pounder, caught on a red fly.

The rocks south of Mission were reported by quite a few as good on the troll, also the Wilcox Landing area was reported as good by R. Johnson, who, with his party spent the weekend at the new lake Okanagan resort, where he found excellent modern cabins, fully furnished, at very reasonable rates. Operator is C. E. Bolton and the camp can be reached by phone for reservations.

The golf Tee spoon was used with very good success by Mr. Johnson. Beaver Lake was very heavily fished over the weekend, with all facilities of boats, cabins and tent space being used. Some very good reports have come in from anglers who trolled deep in the centre of the lake.

Fish caught were of good size and color. For this week there is accommodation at the lodge only, and there are boats available.

Echo Lake, near Beaver was also very good with Reg Martin and his party taking limit catches of trout up to three pounds.

Oyama Lake reports are excellent with the Sedge fly fishing very good. I was fortunate in spending the weekend on this lake with my family and Dr. and Mrs. T. Haack. We took all the fish we wanted, the Fishing on the lakes at McCulloch has been steady with the best catches being made in the dam, Island Lake has been very spotty, as usual, but a few nice sized trout have been taken. Best way in to Island is via the Joe Rich Road, I am told. Turn off past Eight Mile. A few trout of fair size were taken from the small lakes east of McCulloch.

Turtle Lake, being about four miles by trail from the dam, has some good sized fish. Small fish reported very plentiful in Trapper Lake. Road in is rough.

Many varied reports in from Mission Creek. Most were that fish are scarce in the creek. The only good report was that the E4 flatfish was excellent below the fish ladder.

Quite a few local anglers fished the Shuswap over the weekend and some large fish were reported.

More About Glenmore Growers

F. D. Price, East Kelowna grower, who led a similar attack at the South and East Kelowna local meeting a couple of weeks ago, said those in favor of the resolution did not want to destroy Tree Fruits. He too was critical over the low price growers received for produce.

Mr. Snowsall defended the present general manager and the staff of Tree Fruits. The head of the board of governors pointed out Mr. Walrod had been appointed manager a year ago, and had instituted many new ideas. "It's not good business to put a new man in and then censure him. If you have any ideas, then bring them up. But a vague vote of censure seems pointless."

Mr. Wilson replied that before any change can be made in Tree Fruits, the voice of the grower must be heard. A motion of censure would force a change, he said.

"What kind of a change?" asked another grower. Are you going to break down everything we built up? I don't think the trouble lies here. It's outside the brokers and the wholesalers."

CEE GRADE FRUIT Another grower said that his wife recently visited retail stores on the prairies, and she was disgusted with the quality of fruit that was being sold. When questioned, she informed her that it was impossible to get better fruit. Most of the fruit offered for sale was of the cee grade variety, he charged.

After the resolution had passed, and Mr. Wilson offered three suggestions in improving the marketing set-up, Mr. Snowsall said the reason he was disappointed over the resolution was that the governors during the past year had taken steps to streamline Tree Fruits.

"Now you want one man," he said. "It's impossible to scrap all exemptions, as they perform various functions, vital functions to ensure that quality fruit is produced. If you adopt this idea, it would be dictatorship, and we would be scrapping the whole democratic system which this organization has been built on."

Referring to the one-man brokerage system, Mr. Snowsall said anyone will buy fruit in a good year, but in a poor year, there's more sales resistance. "If there was one broker, naturally there would be more incentive to push the fruit. It is general practice to have one broker particularly in the fresh fruit market."

"I'm sorry the chairman of the board of governors has rejected all my suggestions," remarked Mr. Wilson for Mr. Snowsall had offered his personal views.

At the outset of the meeting, chairman Sam Pearson noted a representative of the press present. He called for a vote as to whether the reporter could stay, and it was passed by an overwhelming majority.

Mr. Pearson, replying to Mr. Wilson's charges that many growers are not familiar with the pooling system, said that if they do not understand the facts, it is their own fault as they do not attend meetings of their local. A member of the B.C. FGA executive for four years, Mr. Pearson said before a motion of censure is passed, growers should know the intricate problems of selling the crop. He used the term "ignorant" in referring to growers who did not attend meetings. Several orchardists took exception to the remark. Mr. Pearson later left the chair to speak against the resolution.

Maxson thunders home, steals win from Brooks

Sensational driving by Frank Maxson in the Trophy Dash and "A" Main races Wednesday night bucketed him into the top point position for the meet, and climaxed the best card of stock-car racing seen since the opening of the Knox Mountain Race Way.

Vernon's Bill Brooks, in his speedy Chev, was second high point man for the evening, and he was only beaten by a scant three points and as many feet by Maxson, in the final race of the evening.

Maxson's hell-for-leather handling of Rutland Hardware's Ford coupe, No. 77, kept the spectators on the edge of their seats throughout the evening.

The trophy race started right off by Welder on the last straight to thrill the spectators, when Vern stretch, practically in front of the non's Bruce Jorgeson, a tyro driver judges' stands.

Nishi took the "B" Main, following a sterling effort by Pet. Young, driving Gem Auto's car No. 99. Young's inexperience betrayed him when he let Nishi get in the rail, drove like the veteran he is, holding spot on one of the turns, but he started in the vanguard of the pack, since he was racing without a clutch.

Brooks got into an early lead, and held on to it, while Maxson started whittling his way through the field. Posing Welder on the inside, he moved up on O'Brien, but the stubborn Irishman wouldn't let him by on the inside. Maxson didn't hesitate, but headed for the outside, and rode the corner on the high part of the bank, coming out ahead in the straight of way.

Half-Shot, another Vernon car, driven by Les Howard, caused a commotion in the first heat when he took off from a tightly locked field of cars on the far corner and crashed through the retaining fence, almost smashing into a parked car.

Brooks stole first neatly from Carl Nishi, in this race, and roared his Chev into the lead, finishing almost half a lap ahead. Brooks was driving his Chev for the first time since he had to change back again from the underslung modification he had put on the car, ruling him ineligible as "stock."

Maxson snatched a second spot in the second heat, fighting his way right up from a rut start to steal

Oliver meets Orioles this Sunday

Oliver OBC's move into Elks' Stadium Sunday afternoon at 2:30, to go against the Kelowna Orioles in a scheduled OMBL game.

Liver is currently holding down fourth place in the standings, while Kelowna is one game back in fifth place.

Coach Hank Tostenen has not suggested a tentative line-up as yet. Orioles will be without the services of centre fielder, Richy Wickens, however, Rich is working at a job in Merritt.

John Culos, ex-Rutland Adanac shortstop has signed with the Orioles and is currently playing the outfield.

"Just like my secretary!"

An official court stenographer interrupted guest speaker Harold W. Coffin, president of the Washington State Bar Association when he addressed a luncheon meeting of the Law Society of B.C. last Friday.

Mr. Coffin was referring to the early history of law, stating it was created before Eborium. "It was called what?" asked court steno Mrs. Beryl Harrison, of Penticton, who queried the spelling.

"Just sounds like my secretary," quipped Mr. Coffin. His address was interrupted several minutes while barristers laughed heartily over the joke.

A second look necessary

Last Saturday night when the track meet was held in the City Park an excellent object lesson was provided that the traffic system in the park does nothing but provide a tight bottleneck and frustrated drivers whenever a few cars want to leave the park at the same time. Saturday night after the meet there was a complete schmozzle. No police were available so one of the aldermen took up point duty and struggled valiantly to usher the thoroughly-angered motorists out of the park.

This was the first experience. There will be more to come. Every time a number of cars want to leave the park at the same time a bottleneck will develop. The reason, of course, is simple. In former years there were three exits and goodness knows there were many, many times when the three exits could not handle the traffic. But now there is one, and try as one may, one cannot make one exit do the work which three could not do last year.

The one-way traffic regulations in the park have succeeded in making the traffic situation border on the chaotic. Several hundred cars on Saturday night struggled to get out of one small exit while another road capable of handling half the traffic was unused because it had been made a one-way inward road.

While the situation is bad enough at the moment, it will be further adversely affected by the new gates that are being put up. These obviously will narrow the exit and so slow down the traffic.

For years now the park roads have been two-way roads and have been wide enough to handle two lanes of traffic at the slow speed limit set for the park. Why, suddenly, have they become incapable of handling two lanes? Now, more than ever before, it is necessary to use the park roads to the limit of their ability. There is no real reason why the two roads can not be both entrance and exit roads.

If the new gates are put in as narrow as they appear to be, it is almost a certainty that they will be torn out within a couple or three years.

The first crowd in the park—and it was by no means a large crowd—demonstrated that something is radically wrong with the new traffic system. The parks board, we believe, should stop all work on the gates until it has a chance to review the situation in the light of the Saturday demonstration. Some new scheme must be devised; large blacktopped parking areas are of little use if they have not adequate entries and exits. The parks board, we believe, should consider reverting to the former practice of using all roads as both entrances and exits.

Until some change is made, the wise driver will leave his car OUTSIDE the park anytime there is a large gathering. The present traffic regulations are just that bad.

Centennial committee

Last week the regatta committee went on record as recommending "to the city council that the regatta committee be authorized to act as the B.C. centennial committee for Kelowna."

Probably the resolution was passed with the best of intentions and probably, too, the resolution does not tell the whole story, but the wording of the resolution is somewhat disturbing and we trust the city council will not accede to the request as it has been made.

Frankly we can see no reason why the regatta committee should be named the centennial committee. The provincial centennial, surely, is important enough to deserve a broader community basis than even the regatta committee provides.

There are two parts to the provincial grants to assist municipalities to fittingly observe the provincial centennial. Forty cents per capita will be given by the province to assist the city to hold a suitable celebration and sixty cents per capita will be provided for a permanent project, provided a similar amount is put up locally.

It may be that the regatta is the logical function around which a centennial theme might be built and it may be that the regatta committee in moving its resolution was thinking of this section of the grant only. On this point the committee's resolution is not clear; it only suggests that the whole centennial function be placed in its hands.

This, we believe, would be a mistake. We believe that before any authority is turned over to any body or before any decisions are made there should be some attempt made to ascertain the general wishes of the people. It may be that the citizens of Kelowna are quite willing to have the regatta committee do what it will with the provincial grants. If this should be so, well and good; but certainly at the moment we have no way of knowing the public would feel this way. It may be that the people of Kelowna would be quite willing to have the local centennial celebration coupled with the regatta but would prefer that permanent and functional project be quite divorced from the regatta or the aquatic. But, again, we do not know.

It is the opinion of this newspaper that the city council should set up a broad and representative committee to seek suggestions as to suitable projects and then to decide which project should be selected and how the local celebration should be handled. The public, at least, should be given a chance to speak its piece. This system has been followed here before with gratifying results. One such instance was the selection of a war memorial project when several widely diversified opinions were finally funnelled into the arena project.

To turn the centennial project over to one organization would, we believe, be a mistake; especially as the organization which requests that it be authorized to act as the local centennial committee could readily suggest several projects to its own advantage, any one of which might make a suitable centennial project. It may be that one of these will be eventually selected, but it should be selected by a general and representative group of citizens, not by a body vitally interested.

Well spoken, Mr. Bennett

In an advertisement sponsored by the provincial department of agriculture carried by this paper last week Premier W. A. C. Bennett addressed himself to the consuming public on behalf of the primary producers of British Columbia.

Briefly, the premier urged the purchase of British Columbia foodstuffs to the end that we may "keep our food dollars working in British Columbia." He pointed out that British Columbia farms, ranches and orchards produce fine foods and that the policy of patronizing B.C. food products is an excellent way to help maintain prosperity within our province.

It is to be hoped metropolitan consumers will take note of this message. The orchardist's stake in the fruit industry, for example, is no greater than that of the packinghouse worker and the trucker. The more British Columbia agriculture is strengthened the more work there will be for workers in the transport and service branches of the distribution network taking farm products to market.

A second sound reason for purchasing British Columbia foodstuffs is that farmers are the country's best spenders. If we send our food dollars, or a good part of them, to some other country or some other part of Canada we are cutting into the potential sales volume of British Columbia business.

If we spend our food dollars at home we can be sure our farmers will put them right back to work here. Premier Bennett is right. Buying home grown foods strengthens British Columbia's economy by assuring employment and steady payrolls in the industries that serve agriculture.

One thing that during the past month has drawn a great deal of favorable comment is the manner in which Dave Millin has handled the convention people at meals. Between the first of April and Saturday night, (June 23) he had served just over 7,000 meals. AT FUNCTIONS. Just last week he had three Gyro functions of five hundred each and on Sunday two Baptist functions of about the same number. I can vouch for the Gyro functions being handled well and of good quality. One Gyro club from the states approached him, I understand, and complimented him on his organization and asked him to come, expenses paid, of course, to supervise a do they're having shortly. Nice compliment, Dave!

Verbal baseball

Most of those who professed to be shocked by the rowdiness of the Commons during the debate on the pipeline not so long ago were complaining about the numbing dullness of Parliamentary debates. What they want at Ottawa, apparently, is quiet excitement, a sort of verbal cricket or lawn bowling. What they should be doing is shouting encouragement to the contestants. One such debate per session—a verbal hockey or baseball game—would do more to get people interested in politics than all the get-out-the-vote campaigns ever devised.

Kelowna beauties attend Osoyoos cherry festival

A bevy of Kelowna beauties represented the Regatta City in Osoyoos' Cherry Festival, on Monday, with Lady-of-the-Lake Jerry Wilson heading the contingent of pulchritude.

The entire troupe of aspirants for this year's Lady-of-the-Lake crown accompanied Miss Wilson, completing an entourage of about 30 from Kelowna attending the show.

Kelowna's drum majorettes, under RCMP Constable Russ Iven, and a representative group of water skiers, also attended.

Mrs. Harry Schuman, mother of a former Lady-of-the-Lake, Sharon Schuman, and supervisor of this year's aspirants, has completed the details for the girls' attendance.

The contestants are: Marilyn Sladen, Miss Aquatic; Eileen Cryderman, Miss Kiwanis; Marilyn Rolph, Miss Rotary; Myrna Maxson, Miss Gyro; Beverly Pitt, Miss Lions; Helen Leonard, Miss Rutland Board of Trade; Doreen Serwa, Miss Kinsmen and Elsie Newick, Miss Jaycee.

We Canadians are an old-fashioned lot. Only the outsiders of our statesmen have been pictured in the newspapers so far. ## Trio opens modern self-serve groceteria, butcher shop in the south end of city

Three Kelowna men have joined forces to open the first super-market in the city's suburbs, with the establishment of a modern, self-serve groceteria and butcher shop serving the south Pendozi and Okanagan Mission districts.

Two of the men, W. S. Farrow and his son, Stan Farrow, are well known in the location, having operated a general grocery business for eight years, across the street from their new location. The other partner, George Silvester, has been manager of Overwaitea store and owner of the KLO Grocery in East Kelowna for 13 years.

The new store, with its 3,500 square feet of floor space, will have four two-sided grocery gondolas; one wall of shelves; one open produce counter and refrigerated units—ice cream freezer, deep freeze, dairy trays, meat service counter, meat self-serve, and walk-in refrigerators.

The bright store will be lit throughout by fluorescent lighting, entailing some 5,000 feet of tubing.

VARIED CAREER

Head of the produce department will be Mr. Farrow, senior, who has had a varied employment since his birth in Warton, Ont., longer back than he cares to think about.

Mr. Farrow started his working life in Vanguard, Sask., where he worked in grocery and dry goods retail stores until he started to farm—which he did until 1936. Moving to Red Deer in 1937, he worked for

In 1947 he came to Kelowna, and the following year started up Farrow's Corner Grocery Store in partnership with his son, Stan.

Stan Farrow in charge of meat department was born in Vanguard, and educated in Kelowna and Red Deer. He started his working life as a delivery boy for a meat market in Red Deer, and then went in

... assistant butcher

He started working back in the meat business in locker plants, until 1948, when he came to Kelowna to enter partnership with his father.

George Silvester is bringing his extensive knowledge of the grocery business to bear on the dry grocery management. He was born in Birk's Fall, Ont., and finished his education in Pentiction, where he played high school basketball in Pentiction.

Mr. Silvester joined Overwaitea's in 1929 and worked in Pentiction and Nelson. The following year he managed the store in Kaslo, and started up a new branch in Quesnel, in 1932, where he stayed for ten years.

In 1937 he came to Kelowna, managing the store here until the following year, when he went into business for himself, opening the KLO Grocery store in East Kelowna.

IGA started operations in 1926

Independent Grocers' Alliance, of which Farrow's-Silvester Food Enterprises Ltd. is affiliated, started operations in 1926 with five stores operating out of Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

Today, IGA operates from coast to coast in Canada and the U.S.

It has approximately 575 stores in Canada, and 6000 stores in the U.S. All IGA stores are independently owned.

IGA is the largest voluntary group of retailers as far as sales are concerned. It matches chain store methods of doing business on a cash and carry basis. The stores are owned by people who live in their respective communities, doing business in the modern competitive and efficient manner.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Boy Scouts Association met on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. W. C. MacKay. It was decided to make a donation of $20 towards the cost of a new tent and to meet the expense of the inscriptions on the shields won by the Westbank troop. Members have greeting cards for sale and also tickets on a blanket to be drawn for in the fall.

Urges Maritimers buy own products

WOODSTOCK, N.B. (CP)—A leading New Brunswick produce buyer felt that before canning and freezing plants can be established Maritimers will have to learn to buy their own products.

Robert McCain, of East Florence said his firm is trying to determine the feasibility of establishing a canning and freezing plant in the district. An earlier survey in the St. John area revealed that $75,000,000 in table supplies had been imported in the last five years.

Beaver Lake goes "modern"

Probably the proudest proprietor of the upper-lake fishing camps is genial Bill Thomson, who recently installed an electric lighting system in Beaver Lake lodge. The power plant is diesel-operated. While some of the ardent fishermen still prefer to "rough it" when on a trip, many city-type anglers like to flick a switch instead of lighting kerosene lamps.

No Farouk among St. John's kings

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Within the city limits there are seven lakes, five ponds and two Pooles. It also seems to be a pious community with 14 Popes, 14 Abbots and 59 Bishops.

There is a liberal sprinkling of famous men: 15 Scotts and 16 Perrys. African explorers are present with 12 Stanleys to greet one elusive Livingstone, who in this case is not a doctor.

According to the new St. John's telephone directory, the city also has a mixed-up year with 20 Summers and only 17 Winters.

While the broth here is apt to be spoiled by 50 Cooks, male help is adequately handled by 66 Butlers. As usual there is a shortage of Nurses, with only five in the city.

The aristocracy of the old world is represented by 28 Earls and 54 Kings (Farouk is not among them). The Popes, Bishops, and Abbots have left their mark on the criminal element in the community with four Goods opposing no Bads.

GM of Canada
Sales Increasing,
Wecker Reports

Oshawa.—Automobile sales in Canada are continuing at their predicted rate, and General Motors of Canada is still working overtime to produce sufficient cars to meet current demand, W. A. Wecker, president of GM, said yesterday.

"Retail sales of automobiles in Canada during 1956 to the beginning of May were more than 8 per cent higher than during the same period in 1955," Mr. Wecker said.

"As for GM, we have been working overtime ever since we reached full production and will be working overtime for some weeks to come to fill present orders."

"The Canadian market for passenger cars seems at this time to be a little stronger than in the United States," Mr. Wecker said. "However, we base GM production in Canada on the outlook for the Canadian economy as a whole. Our economy is strong today and should continue strengthening under present conditions."

IGA stands for INDEPENDENT GROCERS' ALLIANCE . . . the world's foremost group of independently owned and operated food stores. THE IGA movement, started in 1926, now extends from coast to coast with thousands of stores located in major cities and towns in Canada and 45 states . . . all working to bring the housewives of North America better foods at lower prices.

Your Grocer and IGA

. . . Your grocer has joined IGA like the thousands before him in order to bring you quality foods at LOW PRICES. He believes in IGA principles . . . In the system of free and independent enterprise, a system striving to preserve small business, maintain a stable income for the farmer, good wages for labor, and good profits for industry. With this as an objective, we can further increase our high standard of living.

How Can IGA Do It?

. . . How can we sell everything at such low prices you ask. The answer is simple . . . IGA unites major units of food distribution. The INDEPENDENT RETAILER in your community, the INDEPENDENT WHOLESALER, the MANUFACTURER, the FARMER and YOU! All work together in a well built, smoothly running organization. With operating costs as low or lower than those of any other system in the food industry. Today, because of the combined purchasing power of all IGA stores, we can sell at low prices Every Day in the Week—Week In and Week Out.

Low Prices Everyday

Regardless of competition IGA stores will always bring you Every-Day Low Prices! In fact, as IGA sales continue to increase and operating costs decrease—IGA Markets will be able to bring you even lower prices! This may surprise you—but it's true that IGA's operating costs are as low, or lower, than those of any other system in the food industry today! That's why IGA can sell at rock bottom prices every day of the week. That's why you save money all the year through when you shop at your neighborhood IGA Food Store.

Relatives and friends from many distant points came for wedding anniversary

One year ago, on July 3, 1957, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, of Kelowna, celebrated their golden wedding, an account of which was to have appeared in The Courier. Written by one of the guests at the celebration, the story did not reach this paper, however, for the writer was taken ill. It appeared later, in the columns of the Melcourt Star newspaper, Mr. and Mrs. Smith having lived in that province from 1913 until they came to Kelowna in 1943.

Such a gathering of the clan as there was here in Kelowna on that July day last year! A gathering capably planned and carried out by Mr. and Mrs. Smith's daughter, Opal, Mrs. Harold Bradford, of Keremeos; a gathering that came as a complete surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Smith, both of whom were deeply moved, and Mr. Smith was heard to exclaim, "I can't believe it... I just can't believe it!"

Perhaps it's not to be wondered if he couldn't believe it for so well had Mrs. Bradford laid her plans that not a whisper of the coming event escaped, though relatives and friends to the number of 88 came from far and near for the celebration, and to partake of the luncheon provided.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith have eleven children, four sons and seven daughters; 51 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. All of the sons and daughters were present for the golden wedding. They were, Charles, of Keremeos; Floyd, of Malakwa; John, of McBride; and George, of Kelowna, since moved to Hedley, where Mr. Smith is himself working at the present time. The daughters are Anna, Mrs. Joe Legary, of Highbridge, Alta.; Mrs. Ruby Mooreman, of Kelowna; Goldie, Mrs. Quinto Quorum, of Pleasantdale, B.C.; Mary, Mrs. Walter Cranbie, of Lundby, Or.; Mrs. Harold Bradford, of Keremeos; Pearl, Mrs. A. J. (Buddy) Kilgour, and Mrs. Ruth Formo, both of Vancouver. Thirty-six grandchildren also attended.

Other out-of-town guests included field and Adelle, Iowa; Cedar, B.C.; Moeve, Iowa; Love, Sask.; Spence, Wab.; Wellington, V.I.; Keremeos and Vancouver. Besides these, many neighbors and friends called during the afternoon to offer congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Smith, who today, one year later, are as Vince Fenton.

Coffee chatter

by DOROTHY GELLATLY

We newspaper people are supposed to possess a "nose for news", keeping always in mind the five "W's", who, what, where, when and why, at that I wonder if I've got them right. But, right or not, I'm beginning to think a couple more should be added; "wonder" and "whether"—I'm supposed to possess a sixth sense, or be clairvoyant, something, when news items that do come in quite frequently arrive without the necessary details for a story.

Granted we can concoct a story out of almost-thin air—and occasionally do; but we can't concoct the news happenings that are of neighborhood interest. For instance, the kind one sees in the columns of the rural correspondents. You don't agree? Well, all I can say is that these columns are read; and if that's difficult to believe, just try being one of those correspondents for awhile, and you'll know what I mean.

We like to get just such items, too; about who's visiting who; where they come from and where they're going; where holidays are spent, and what interesting things have been seen, and—oh, you know the sort of thing I mean—the little details that you'd enjoy reading, and I'd enjoy telling about.

Maybe it's our own fault that we don't get that sort of news, because two misconceptions seem to prevail; one, that there's a charge for its publication; and two, that we're not particularly interested. To answer the first; there definitely is not any charge for news items. On the contrary, we're only too pleased when people thoughtfully phone or send them in, and are more than grateful to the faithful few. As to the second, I'm going to parry that by suggesting that Kelowna still is "small-town" enough to be interested in small-town news... Or is it? Certainly it's small enough to lend a helping hand wherever and whenever the need arises; as with the help so generously given by individuals and organizations. I'm continually amazed at the way in which busy people are never too busy to show kindness in a hundred ways...

So, in our own way, we're here to help, too; by advising you in advance of events about to transpire, and to acquaint you with what has already happened. Oh, yes; and to tell you about the stranger in our midst... which brings me back to where I started. And now—I wonder whether I've convinced any of you that we really want news?

MR. AND MRS. FRANK S. SMITH

well and active as ever. One of the visitors was the minister, L. Long. A four-tiered wedding cake, delicately decorated, was baked for the golden wedding by Mrs. Bradford, whose parents were married in Des Moines, Iowa, and came to Canada in 1913 to homestead in the pioneering days in the Eastern district of south-western Saskatchewan.

In 1928 they moved to the Shannon View district, and in 1932 to the Brockington district, where Mr. Smith operated a lumber and shingle mill until he came to Kelowna to retire.

One of the numerous gifts received by Mr. and Mrs. Smith at their golden wedding was a lovely spread from an 82-year-old aunt, Mrs. E. H. Koenig, of Long Beach, California.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Women's Institute Hall where the toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. H. W. Seales. Pink tapers, roses and carnations decorated the bride's table, and white and pink peonies centered the guest tables. The bride's parents and the groom's mother assisted in receiving the guests, totalling more than 200.

For going away the bride changed to a pink wool suit flecked with brown and white and wore pink and brown accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother wore a green silk dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Numerous guests from Kelowna attended the wedding, while others were from Penticton and Hope, and Mrs. Pomrenke will make their home in Kelowna.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Leno
Women's Travel Authority

A kitchen in your car trunk is easy to assemble, makes it possible to have truly sumptuous picnic fare and eliminates "homework". You can cook simply over a collapsible camp stove with a heat pellet, or elaborately over a two-burner affair that stores its own liquid fuel in a compact metal case.

Perishables can be kept cold with inexpensive plastic covered chemical "pillows" which are refrigerated beforehand, or food can be kept hot with fiberplastic containers. For travelling families there are portable ice-chests large enough to keep a day's food supply plus all baby's bottles. (Incidentally, to protect bottles from breakage, insert them in old wool socks.) There's a set of six-in-one aluminum pots and pans all neatly packed, including four plates and cups. Buy Scout stores carry hinged knife-fork-and-spoon sets that are the most compact utensil set you can find. Add collapsible stools and trays, and you'll find an outfit.

Place your staples in a wicker basket, include your favorite spices, and in no time at all "camp" out.

Shower honors Dorothy Phipps

SOUTH KELOWNA — A surprise shower was held in the South Kelowna Community Hall for Miss Dorothy Phipps, daughter of Mrs. Phipps and the late James Phipps, who married Mr. Kenneth Thomson, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Thomson, of Okanagan Mission, last Saturday.

Thirty-five guests attended, including a number of ladies from East Kelowna, where the bride-to-be has resided all her life.

The hall was decorated with multi-colored streamers, balloons and flowers, and the bride-to-be was seated at a table with a centerpiece of a vase of fragrant orange blossom. Miss Phipps received a beautiful carnation corsage, presented by the hostess, Mrs. W. Todd, and two-year-old Heather Field, niece of the bride-to-be, wheeled in the decorated garden cart containing the gifts.

Miss Marian Wilson of East Kelowna assisted with the unwrapping after which refreshments were served, and Miss Shirley Hardy took several pictures of the bride table at which the bride-to-be was seated with Mrs. W. Todd, Mrs. James Phipps, Mrs. Stewart Smith and Miss Marian Wilson.

Ultra-modern motel rushed to completion

The Parkview Motel, ultra-modern establishment located on Harvey Avenue, was constructed in the record time of 68 days. This picture was taken the latter part of last week, and by weekend, there was a glistening coat of white stucco on the building.

Proprietor R. J. Christian was able to open the establishment in time to accommodate the B.C. section of the Canadian Bar Association which met in Kelowna last week. By Saturday when the influx of visitors for the Dominion Day holiday started, he had all 15 units ready for occupancy.

Store hour headache - what's the cure? New foods offer challenge to nutritionists

(From the "News Round-up", published by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce)

One of the most contentious problems facing many Boards and Chambers across Canada today is that of night shopping.

In a great number of rural communities, night shopping has long been in effect although lately there has been a trend to shift from Saturday night to Friday night opening. For years it was almost a tradition that on Saturday night the farmer loaded his family into the backboard and drove into town. That was the social highlight of the week and stocking-up on groceries was often considered of little more importance than the exchange of social pleasantries on the street corner.

Improved standards of living have altered that pattern, however, and today's fast automobile, better roads, television and other factors have increased the farmer's weekly visit to town to a more frequent occurrence. Verification of this trend is found in the gradual changing of banking hours across Canada to all-day Saturday closing with extended hours on Friday, even in rural areas.

In the large metropolitan cities there is no uniformity across Canada on this matter of night opening. Montreal downtown stores are open Friday evenings whereas in Toronto, we understand, night shopping is confined to outlying fringe areas. In Ottawa there is talk of legal action to prevent neighboring stores from opening nights. The Winnipeg Chamber of Commerce Mercantile Committee conducted a survey in April with the following results (which were reported to the City's Health Committee):

- Question:
1. Do you favor a 6-day shopping week?
Answer:
Number: Yes 271; No 98
Percentage: 70.6%; No 29.4%
Question:
2. Do you favor permitting shopping one night a week?
Answer:
Number: Yes 294; No 92
Percentage: 76.6%; No 23.4%
Question:
3. Do you favor permitting each retail store to set its own shopping hours?
Answer:
Number: Yes 222; No 145
Percentage: Yes 60.4%; No 39.6%

Unfortunately, in some smaller cities difference of opinion among retailers on night opening has reached the point where feelings run high and bitterness exists. In certain cases some chain stores are advocating night shopping against the opposition of independent retailers who profess they cannot afford the extra necessary staff. Again, too, some retailers advocate a straight six-day week with one night opening. Others maintain that the customary Wednesday afternoon closing works hardship in tourist areas and still others are agitating for a complete full-day closing, preferably Monday.

calendar and mark the date of October 15 to 18 - The Canadian Chamber of Commerce Annual Meeting - Quebec City.

If you have never attended any of the annual meetings of the Canadian Chamber, you have a thrill in store. "True democracy in action" was how one businessman from a rural community recently described it. "As the voting delegates for our very small Chamber, my vote was just as important as those of representatives of Chambers 10 and even 50 times our size. This is certainly one place where the small community has its say in national affairs."

Each year finds more and more businessmen from "grass roots" communities making themselves heard in the Parliament of Business. So plan now to attend at the Chateau Frontenac next October. We'll keep you posted as the program becomes more definite.

And remember, business may now write off, for income tax purposes, travelling expenses to two Canadian conferences. So make this one of them.

The request was tabled, and the letter will be filed in the centennial file.

A number of the ladies will assist the lifeguard each day with the sale of membership tickets at the pool. Rates are the same as last year, except for adult single admissions which are raised slightly.

Kamloops hockey club acquires new boss

Hockey in Kamloops entered a new era recently when Kenny MacKenzie, late co-owner of New Westminster Royals of the Western Hockey League and long-time promoter of the game in Western Canada, signed an undertaking to operate a Kamloops team in the Okanagan Senior Hockey League.

The deal was completed noon Saturday in a Kamloops legal office following a meeting of members of the Kamloops Hockey club the night before in the Caledonian Hall which empowered Dr. George Smith, president of the club, and Harvey Heathfield, vice-president, to negotiate with MacKenzie.

Financial terms of the agreement were not revealed but in a statement to members Friday night Dr. Smith disclosed that by the end of August it was expected that a large portion of the club's $12,000 debt would have been wiped out.

Local girls take beauty, swim honors

Kelowna's contingent to the Osoyoos Cherry Festival, over the holiday weekend, took the southern city by storm, winning the title of queen of the festival, and capturing first prize in six of eight swimming events in the water competitions.

Doreen Serwa, Kelowna Kingsmen's candidate for Lady-of-the-Lake this year, was elevated to the ranks of festival royalty in the beauty contest at the celebration.

Elsie Newick, Miss Jaycee in the Lady-of-the-Lake race in Kelowna this year, was chosen as the runner-up to Miss Serwa.

Tiny Maira Mitchell, one of the Osoyoos Swim Club entries in the competitive swimming, won three firsts and one second, helping the Regatta City's clean sweep of the contest.

Miss Mitchell won first in 10 and under breast stroke; 10 and under free style; 12 and under free style. She came second in the 12 and under breast stroke.

Pat Kerr won two firsts for Osoyoos Swim Club: 16 and under free style, and 14 and under breast stroke. She placed second in the 14 and under free style, 16 and under breast stroke.

Helen Hyde, Kelowna, won the 16 and under back stroke, and took second in the 16 and under free style; third in the 14 and under breast stroke.

Jean Hoover, Kelowna, came third in the 16 and under breast stroke, and Patsy Walker, Kelowna, second in the 16 and under back stroke.

Macs victorious, Orioles edged in holiday tourney

Geordie Taylor's second home run of the day and Bernie Roberts' 11th inning bases-loaded bunt, wrapped up the Kelowna Orioles Baseball Tournament for Summerland Macs at Elk's Stadium Monday evening.

Macs took the game from the Orioles by breaking the 3-3 tie that had lasted since the sixth inning.

The Orioles got into the final game by beating the Interior League All-Stars, 4-0 in the first game of the day.

Summerland bested the Oliver O.B.C.'s 9-6 to get into the playoffs.

Oliver went against the All-Stars in the third match of the day.

About 900 persons jammed under the covered section of the stadium to watch the last game, as a light rain kept them out of the bleachers.

Kelowna 4, All-Stars 0

Orioles and All-Stars battled out a no-score game for six innings, of the seven inning game before Kelowna rallied for a four-run spree.

Pitcher Les Schaeffer tagged a double to lead off the seventh inning. Shortstop Rooney Ito got on base via an error to the pitcher, advancing Les to second. Schaeffer came home on a one-bagger by Ed Kielbiski.

Ito scored on another safety by Joe Kaiser, and Kielbiski added a third run on Johnny Culos' fielders choice which put Kaiser out at second on a force-play, and Culos scored.

When Al Schaeffer got on first on an error to third baseman Dugan.

Pitcher Schaeffer nearly lost his "three-up three-out" record in the fifth when he gave up the only walk of the game to Len Wickeneiser, but managed to save it when Hacker hit into a double play catching Wickeneiser at second.

Schaeffer lost his no-hitter in the sixth when Morris tagged a slow-ball for a single, but failed to get any damage.

Orioles picked up six hits, and two free passes.

Summerland 9, Oliver 6

The second game of the day was a hitters battle contrasted by the first game pitchers battle.

Behind the pitching of Don Cristante and import Billy Eyre of Princeton, Summerland managed the 9-6 win.

Oliver led off the game in the first inning, with the O.B.C.'s Princeton import, Bruno Ceecon, playing centre field, tagged the longest homerun ever to leave the park. It was still climbing as it went over the scoreboard, nearly 400 feet away at centre field.

Les Burns got the second run for Oliver with a single, and stealing home. Frank Fritz got a free pass, and Bill Martino got a one-bagger.

At this point pitcher Don Cristante was relieved by Billy Eyre. Eyre allowed one hit, which brought in Fritz, then put down the next two batters.

Summerland tied the score in the third inning, with Al Hooker, Sandy Jomori and Lloyd Hayes all getting runs, on two errors.

O.B.C.'s Frank Fritz didn't take long to fix that, however. In the bottom half of the same inning, he let go a homer over the right field fence, putting his team in the lead.

But Bruno Ceecon got his second run of the day in the fourth, getting a free pass, and scoring on the safety by Frank Fritz.

The top half of the sixth saw Summerland again take the lead, on six hits, six runs and a new Oliver pitcher.

With Lloyd Hayes on base, Geordie Taylor got his first homer of the day, sending the ball over the right field fence. Ollie Egely and Bill Parker both followed with safeties, which proved to be too much for pitcher Bill Martino.

The third game was a little more subdued with the losers of the first two games going for third place money—Oliver taking the $50.

The All-Stars team, which was composed entirely of Rutland Adanac players, got the game off to a good start.

Senyer got on base with a double, and Holtski on an error. Both were driven on a double by Len Wickeneiser.

Oliver picked up four runs in the bottom half of the inning to take the lead and knock starting pitcher Hickson off the mound.

Paul Eisenhut tagged a single, and Bruno Ceecon got a double, both scoring on another two-bagger by Frank Fritz. John Lingor, ex-Oriole, got a single, bringing in Fritz, and scored on Johnny Vandenberg's sacrifice bunt.

Ceecon and Rudies added runs in the third, and Richardson got another in the fourth to stretch the O.B.C.'s lead to 7-2.

All-Stars replied in the sixth with a two-run effort. Len Wickeneiser got his second double of the game, and Frank Hacker got a safety. Wick scored on Denny Reed's single, but Hacker was caught at home plate on a good throw by Oliver centre fielder, Ceecon. Reed came home on an over-throw to third base by the catcher, ending Hickson's scoring for the game.

Bruno Ceecon came in a single, and Richardson got another in the fourth to stretch the O.B.C.'s lead to 7-2.

Oliver collected 10 hits and only two bases on balls. Rutland gathered nine hits and one pass.

SUMMERLAND 4, KELOWNA 3

The final game, for first and prize money, $200 and $100, saw the Orioles and Macs battle it out with action that kept fans on the edge of their seats for the full 11 innings.

Umpires Al Lafare, behind the plate, and Larry Scholer were called upon to give their approval or disapproval on some very tight calls. First baseman Tim Trites was the Oriole slinger for the game, batting 3 for 3, all singles. He was Robert Parker both followed with safeties, which proved to be too much for pitcher Bill Martino.

Macs' Sandy Jomori got the game off to a start for the Summerland be racing on the last day of the Kelowna Golden Jubilee Regatta, Saturday, August 11, in a meet that is sanctioned by both U.S. and Canadian power boat authorities.

It is also reported that the big boats may try to break the world record for propeller-driven craft, 178 m.p.h., set by Stanley Sayers of Seattle in July, 1952, in Slo-Mo-Shun IV.

Both Ito and Culos came home on a single by Cec Favell who replaced Greg Jablonski in centre field in the fourth.

Summerland's Bob Parker cut the lead down to one run on the bottom half of that inning, and Geordie Taylor let go a homer over the right field fence to tie the score—his second homer of the day.

The following innings were very tight with runners past second to get their runners past second base. Catcher Al Blinston provided the crowd with some tense minutes, when he batted eight foul balls in a row after the full count—he walked.

Cec Favell prevented Oliver from stopping the game in the ninth, when he climbed the fence, preventing a well hit ball by Ollie Egely from clearing the left field wall.

He was stunned momentarily by the force of the impact, but the ball was thrown in time to hold Egely at third.

Lloyd Hayes got the winning run for the Macs. He went to first on a single, and got to third on two brought home on a squeeze play bunt by Bernie Roberts, ending the game.

Coach Hank Tostenson wishes to express his thanks to all who made the tournament a success, and to the Firestone Tire Company who donated two Firestone "500" tires as the door prize.

Mr. Tostenson said that the Orioles are looking towards a bigger and better tournament next year, and that it possibly may be a two-day affair.

Donations pulled Canucks out of "red" by $1947.96

VERNON—If it had not been for two donations, one from the city of Vernon and the other from the arena commission, Vernon Senior Hockey Association would have had a net loss on club operations amounting to $1,947.96 instead of $12.16 in the bank, retiring Treasurer Bert Livingstone disclosed at the club's annual meeting.

The city donated $2,000 of the $2,500 it received from Highway Minister P. A. Aglardi (remainder being spent for Allan Cup expenses) and the Vernon Civic Arena Commission gave a $1,414.23 bonus to the club on the basis of gate receipts for the Allan Cup playoffs.

Total revenue received by the club for 1955-56 operations was $75,000.03, compared to total revenue for the previous season of $67,368.73.

Year's revenue paid for the $9,133.90 debt inherited from past seasons (a 1954-55 deficit of $3,847.08 plus a $5,286.82 deficit prior to 1954); and total expenditure of $64,900.93 for this season left a surplus of $1,253.67.

Breakdown of the surplus is: $12.16 cash in bank, $138 accounts receivable and $1,103 worth of equipment on hand.

Key items on the revenue side of the club's statement were $46,613.15 contributed by ticket sales; $6,125.37 share from the Savage Cup series; $1,075.85 from the Patton Cup show; $1,748.28 derived from the Allan Cup series, and $2,993.60 from programs.

Classified as "other income" were the major items of $1,053.63 from a car rental; $1,631.75 in Allan Cup donations, $2,000 from the City of Vernon; $1,414.23 from the arena commission and $1,620.37 from "other sources."

Compared with last season's operations, gate receipts this year are up more than $2,000 from last year when the total was $44,272.74.

But net money received from program sales has fallen this year. Last season, a net of $4,364.25 was realized; but the 1955-56 season received only $2,993.60 from programs. Possibly the reason for the slump in program purchases was the provincial government's order that raffle-numbers on programs be stopped.

Major items on the expenditure side of the club's statement are: $1,875 to the OSAHA for assessment and referee charges; $6,129.03 to the B.C. government for amusement tax; $3,714.33 for equipment and supplies; $6,585.13 for arena rent; $10,927.56 for players' salaries.

Total expenses were $64,240.43. In general, the major expenses of the club this year are all down from those of the previous season. The 1954-55 season saw the OSAHA charge amount to $1,008.82; arena rent to $7,657.58; equipment and supplies to $3,727.95, and players' wages to $4,318.86.

It appears that the club's "cut down in costs" policy has enabled the Vernon Association to realize its $1,253.67 surplus with $12.16 in the bank rather than a deficit of $3,847.08 as occurred last year.

Traveling magistrates for interior centres urged by convention

Establishment of a system of "travelling magistrates" to service interior B.C. courts was urged Friday at the annual meeting of the B.C. Law Society.

A resolution, introduced by the Penticton Bar Association, requested that the attorney-general be asked to set up the system of travelling magistrates "where such system is necessary to provide stipendiary or police magistrates who are qualified barristers and solicitors."

The two-day parley concluded Friday. Rated as one of the most successful conventions of the society, several members suggested privately that next year's session also be held in Kelowna. It also marked the first time that law students were admitted to the bar. The ceremony, conducted in Kelowna court house, was presided over by Mr. Justice Harold McInnes, of Penticton. Convention concluded with a golf tournament Saturday morning.

A. D. C. Washington led the attack in favor of barristers holding down magistrates' posts. "It is most frustrating for counsel to present arguments to a lay magistrate and have him say 'I don't believe in that to the county court judge,'" he declared. "It is a matter of expediency that people other than lawyers are appointed," he remarked. But, Mr. MacLean explained, there are no applicants from the legal profession for the vacancies as a magistrate.

DOING GOOD JOB

Appointment of lay magistrates was defended by Deputy Attorney-General Alan MacLean, who said they are doing a good job under difficult circumstances. He said that while the suggestion of the Penticton Bar Association was "admirable," he failed to see how it would work out in practice. For instance, he stated the ordinary lay magistrate in Penticton, Kelowna and Vernon is working around five days a week.

"I fail to see how such an appoint-

Divide city into twelve warden areas

City of Kelowna has been divided into 12 post warden areas to coordinate civil defence operations. Steps were taken at a re-organization meeting held last week. Meeting was presided over by Okanagan CD co-ordinator Col. Jack Horn and Major G. E. Morris, local CD co-ordinator.

Each of the posts will be manned by a post warden and a deputy. Approximately ten wardens will be required to assist the post warden in organizing the various areas.

At the same time it was announced that Arthur Hughes-Games had been appointed director of welfare services of the local CD unit.

Major Morris indicated a local civil defence wardens' course will be held within the near future.

Members of the various service clubs together with the heads of the CD unit were present. Col. Horn outlined the purpose and responsibilities of the newly-appointed committee and the need for revival of interest by the general public in matters relating to CD.

Any citizen who would be interested in the wardens' course should contact the chief warden, James Logie, or the CD officer, Major Morris.

ROLE OF WARDEN

Following is the role of a warden in civil defence:

The aim of all civil defence measures is to save life.

All services within the civil defence corps are organized to achieve this aim, however, during any period of disaster, be it military or civilian. The main responsibility for organizing the general public so that they are in a position to assist in self protection, or self preservation, rests upon the shoulders of the Warden.

In the past the warden service has been looked upon as the service which acts as the guide, philosopher and friend of the general public. This still holds good. A good warden organization makes civil defence strong at the neighborhood level.

Self protection is the first law of civil defence, just as self preservation is the first law of nature. To be effective self protection must be organized. This is done through warden leadership. Each neighborhood must have its own disaster plan.

The wardens main functions are:

(1) To act as a guide for the unorganized public.

(2) To assist other civil defence services with the development of their plans.

(3) To act as a reporting agent.

(4) To initiate remedial action when necessary.

The warden together with the post warden is responsible for the preparation of the post area disaster plan for the education of the public residing in the area. The effectiveness of the whole civil defence plan will depend upon the trust and confidence they are able to inspire in the public.

The public should look upon the warden as a friend rather than an official, one who is giving voluntary of his or her time to assist in any type of disaster be it large or small. The public may therefore expect visits from their wardens from time to time, enquiring as to any plans they have for their personal protection and for purposes of keeping the household register up to date, also meeting new residents who may move into the area, and to organize, if possible, self help parties in case of disaster.

Ogopogo given "new look"

Ogopogo, Kelowna's friendly denizen of Lake Okanagan, has been given a new look in his home in the park at the foot of Bernard Avenue. The sign advertising this year's Golden Jubilee Regatta, which hangs on the lumberman's arch over the smiling monster has been designed in rustic style, with raised letters of natural wood set on a light, natural wood finish placard.

A myth to many people, the lake monster is very dear to the heart of Kelownians, who jealously guard their rights to the claim of being the "Home of the Ogopogo."

Fruit growers at Peachland facing losses

PEACHLAND — Peachland fruit growers have been forced to seek employment on reconstruction of Highway 97 or working for the government developing new picnic sites.

This was disclosed by C. O. Whinton, chairman of the Peachland local B.C. Fruit Growers' Association, who said damage to trees last winter was worse than the disastrous 1948-49 winter.

Mr. Whinton said the move to get the district declared a disaster area did not materialize. Agriculture minister Kenneth Kiernan said present legislation would not meet the needs of Peachland growers. Only hope for orchardists wishing to obtain money for replanting trees is to arrange credit through their own banks, Mr. Whinton said.

The B.C.F.G.A. chairman said there will be no peaches this year compared with 85,000 crates normally. Instead of the usual 20,000 crates of cherries there would be hardly enough for home canning. Ordinarily there would be three family-sized crates of plums, or four thousand crates of plums.

This year there would not be enough for home canning. The same applies to apricots. Last year there was a light crop of 'cots, but a normal crop is around 15,000. There will be a fair crop of Bartlett's; Anjou will be light, and the Delicious and Newtown apple crop is practically non-existent. Winesaps and McIntosh applies are fair.

Veteran lawyer terms Canada's divorce law "Barbarously cruel"

Canada's top authority on divorce and the man who wrote the "bible" on the subject thinks Canada's laws on the matrimonial question are "unrealistic, barbarously cruel and contribute to juvenile delinquency."

He is W. Kent Power, of Calgary, result of the fact that these acts who is presently holidaying in the were enacted prior to confederation at attending the Canadian Bar Association's B.C. convention. Mr. Power will return to the foothill city Wednesday. He is the author of an article "Why we need a new divorce law" which will appear in a national magazine this month.

A 71-year-old widower with two children, he points to 50,000 deserted spouses in Canada whom he thinks should be given release by a legal divorce.

ENGLISH SYSTEM

He favors the English system where a spouse can obtain a divorce after three years' desertion by the partner, incurable sanity, or cruelty which is dangerous to the mental and physical health of the partners seeking divorce.

He thinks badly of Canada's divorce law which admits only adultery, except in Nova Scotia where cruelty is the ground.

"An isolated cause of adultery as sole grounds for divorce is entirely wrong. That leads to perjury, contempt for justice and causes juvenile delinquency," he remarked.

As support of this last contention, he cites cases where men and women are unable to obtain divorces and enter into "irregular" unions.

The children of such unions, he says, are more likely to become delinquent problems.

Mr. Power did not think a change of law in Canada would necessarily conflict with the religious views of many people.

RELIGIOUS GROUNDS

"Those who are opposed to divorce on religious grounds would still not avail themselves of the legal opportunities if they did not desire to do so," he said.

Newfoundland, like Quebec, has no divorce law. Those desiring a divorce are obliged to petition parliament for the passing of a private bill.

"People often wonder why each of the maritime provinces has its own divorce act. This situation is a Machine cost $4000 when new, he said, and it has travelled only 5400 miles. Offer was referred to the fire department after the letter was tabled at this week's council meeting.

PEACHLAND — Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Fulk of Peachland was Mr. Fulk's niece and her family, Mr. and Mrs. E. Paekovich and Donna, of Edmonton.

Prior to leaving with her son Gordon, Mrs. Sarvey was honored at a farewell tea at the home of Mr. W. McKenzie who with Mrs. J. Todd was a co-hostess for the afternoon. Mrs. Sarvey and Gordon left on the weekend to join Mr. Sarvey at their new home on Salt Spring Island.

Baby Todd has been released from the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Blesin have spent a few days at the home of Mrs. Blesin's father, Mr. Stens, before returning to their home in Vancouver. Mr. and Mrs. Blesin attended the North American Baptist Pacific Conference held in Kelowna recently.

Visiting from Vancouver at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Simey recently were Mr. and Mrs. Meek.

Mining fever in Peachland really reached its peak last week and the townspeople were surprised to see a grizzly old prospector drive a claim stake on the main street in front of the Bank of Montreal with these words on it "Shipplaster Mine Shaft Number One Open Tuesdays and Fridays."

Builders' group granted charter

Members of the newly-formed Kelowna Builders Association were informed at a general meeting last week that a charter for their organization has been granted.

The group now can proceed with plans under the title of Kelowna Builders' Association.

The aims and benefits of the group were outlined by Mr. A. Davis, who stated the association would endeavor to promote good relationship between contractors, the employees and the public.

Officers of the association are, H. Toppman, president; B. Lupton, vice-president; C. E. Dore, secretary-treasurer; directors, D. Lang, G. Briese, L. Douillard and A. Davis.

A drive for members will be started immediately.

Dude ranches popular in B.C.

Good food, open air and cowboy music go with every menu at a Cariboo dude ranch. There's informality and plenty of bonhomie in the big hall where it is almost impossible not to make friends. Playing real cowboys on real horses goes down well with the youngsters, perhaps one reason why dude ranches are popular with families looking for a vacation that is different.

The B.C. Government Travel Bureau, Victoria, B.C., will be glad to help you plan such a holiday.

Four-lane highway new aim for OCTA heads

PENTICTON—A new era for an historic highway was initiated at a meeting here recently of the executive of the Okanagan Cariboo Trail Association, the group that has sparked travel over Highway 97 on both sides of the border.

The leaders of Highway 97 stated that increased travel over the route, and the future increase of this when the highway is completely paved by 1959, make it necessary to change the organization's objectives from a "one way track" to a "four-lane highway."

In the past, it was stated, the emphasis has been on the communities through which the highway passes, rather than on the route. But with the altered status of the highway the effort of the Okanagan Cariboo Trail Association should be directed to the scenic possibilities, to the fishing and hunting areas reachable from the highway, leaving the advertising of the various communities and areas to those who live in them.

At the same time, it was stated the increased amount of work that is piling up requires a different type of executive, paid officials who can devote more time to the work without detracting from their need to earn a living. To this end, one of the first changes was made to employ Chester Kim, who has as Wenatchee's Chamber of Commerce secretary-manager, devoted years of effort to the organization, as its publicity director. Mr. Kim is shortly entering the public relations field and will take on the Okanagan Cariboo Trail work as part of this.

Also, it was agreed that his Canadian counterpart, J. D. Bews of Kelowna, who with Mrs. Bews has been working for many years for the benefit of the association, should have his work put on a "paying basis."

Actual amounts to be allocated for these two offices will be comparatively small, in consideration of the amount of work and travel that will be involved, it was indicated by the executive.

Full ratification of these moves will have to come from the membership as a whole at the annual convention, which will be held in Penticton on September 14 and 15. A new framework of bylaw changes to encompass the new needs will be placed before the delegates to that convention.

At the same time a new plan for publicizing the route, rather than isolated committees, was outlined. As part of this plan a new brochure on a self-paying basis was recommended. Already such a brochure has been bringing excellent results in the State of Washington, it was reported. Distribution of the brochure will be on an entirely new basis.

In suggesting the new plan to the directorate, O. H. Erickson of Yakima, president of the Okanagan Cariboo Trail Association, first outlined the history of the movement, and then the changes that have come about since it was started.

"The Okanagan-Cariboo Trail Association started out as a Chamber of Commerce-Board of Trade activity, and purely as an adjunct to those organizations, in an effort to get a few people to travel over them and the gravel road of that day," he said.

But today, the association has expanded until it is both actually and potentially, an entity in itself.

"We are entering to a different type of tourist to those of the earlier years, who were willing to rough it. Today, they want tiled bathrooms."

"We have, since our inception, been successful in large measure," said Mr. Erickson, giving figures to show some of the changes in post-war travel through the port of Orville-Osoyoos.

In 1948, he said, the combined north-south travel through that customs port was 172,635 for the year. By 1953, this had been stepped up to 346,543 and in 1954 had reached 421,655.

The 1953 figure was double the amount of that of 1948—a remarkable result in just five years. And it appears to me, this is the yardstick of what is happening. So, by profit for each pig was $5.70 or 1953 the movement could well be in enough to boost the value of the excess of 700,000 a year; and, as barley to $1.11 a bushel, being in some measure responsible for it, our organization will have fit was realized, a lot of four done a real job. Indeed, when the pigs fed partly on oats, we will have accomplished far more

How Civil Defence Operates in Natural Disaster

Fourteenth in a series of 24 articles

The basic job of a civil defence organization is to save life in disaster, whether caused by nuclear weapons or nature in the form of flood, fire or hurricane. But services set up and enhanced by a civil defence organization can also do much, especially in the case of natural disaster, to protect property as well.

For civil defence is not some new entity seeking to gain a place of prominence for itself in the community. It is merely the name given to a plan under which existing services can be unified and supplemented for swift action in the face of unusual emergencies.

The treat of war to North America has only served to point up the need of such an organization.

Civil defence seeks to recruit volunteers from the civilian population in cities, towns, villages and farms to train as auxiliary firemen, police, first-aid workers and so on. For while these forces exist already in numbers sufficient to meet normal requirements, there are often sudden emergencies when it is humanly impossible for them to meet the demand.

In towns where floods may come unexpectedly, there is no time once the water is in the streets to train the residents how to save themselves and others. Mistakes can be made without danger in a course on artificial respiration, for example, but on someone nearly drowned, a mistake can be fatal. The same goes for first aid. Civil defence aims at training the population to combat such emergencies before they arise.

Fire seldom comes with warning. Suddenly there is a shout, then flames, then destruction and sometimes death—unless the resources to quench the flames in time are ready. Civil defence aims to provide these resources through volunteer training; resources in the form of persons who can give firemen and rescuers trained and efficient assistance in saving property as well as lives.

The same swift, workmanlike organization possible under an alert local civil defence organization can go into action to meet any other form of disaster, including the worst of all: war.

And once the initial onslaught of disaster has been met, it is equally as important to know how to clean-up and alleviate the aftermath. Civil defence planning, as

Barley worth more if used for hogs

WINNIPEG (CP) — Experiments conducted at the University of Manitoba show that barley, which sold at 90 cents a bushel last year, could have been worth $1.41 a bushel if fed to hogs.

Similarly, oats, which sold at 75 cents a bushel, were worth $1.13 when used as a hog finisher.

A paper presented to the annual livestock day at the university by M. E. Seale revealed the increased value of barley and oats when sold as pork.

Cost of raising four pigs included $40 for the weanlings, $12 for labor and $52.47 for feed (taking No. 1 feed barley at 90 cents per bushel). Total cost for the lot was $104.87.

Net return was $127.57, giving a net profit of $23.10 for the lot. Net stick of what is happening. So, by profit for each pig was $5.70 or 1953 the movement could well be in enough to boost the value of the excess of 700,000 a year; and, as barley to $1.11 a bushel, being in some measure responsible for it, our organization will have fit was realized, a lot of four done a real job. Mr. and Mrs. Adria Alexander were each fined $10 a day for being intoxicated at a reserve.

Protest use of land for new building

Two residents in the vicinity of the Toe H property, located at Doyle Avenue and St. Paul Street, appeared before city council last week protesting the proposed erection of a building on the land by the Senior Citizens Association.

J. Bauer and A. Siegel said they were verbally promised by council a year ago that no additional buildings would be placed on the property. At that time the Kelowna Little Theatre was seeking a site for a building.

Acting-mayor Dick Parkinson explained that a delegation from the Senior Citizens Association appeared before council, and had requested a portion of the Toe H property. The group was to canvas nearby property owners to see if they had any objection to such a structure.

"Whether any definite commitment was made regarding future buildings I don't know. I personally don't think there was," remarked Mr. Parkinson. He promised the delegation they would have an opportunity to voice their objection before council takes definite action.

Ald. Bob Knox said council has no intention of putting additional buildings on the site without consulting the residents to ascertain their feelings.

"But you gentlemen already know our feelings," remarked Mr. Bauer. Mr. Parkinson said council is awaiting the result of the survey to be made by the Senior Citizens Association before any action is taken.

Rhythmic swim grind starts

This year's Kelowna Golden Jubilee Regatta, August 8-11, is going to require more girls than ever in its swimming numbers, according to Aquatic head lifeguard Joan McKinley, who will assist Mrs. Irene Athans, wife of Dr. George Athans, in putting on the Golden Jubilee aqua rhythms show.

Practice sessions got under way on Tuesday at 10 a.m., in the Ogoogo Stadium pool, under the guidance of Miss McKinley.

Any girls who are competent swimmers, and would like to turn out regularly to the practice sessions, are welcome to do so, according to Miss McKinley. Girls will be receiving tuition from one of Kelowna's former leading decorative swimmers, Mrs. Athans, and one of the up and coming rhythmic swimmers in international competition, Miss McKinley.

"Bigger and Better Regatta" That was the keynote of a public meeting in the Aquatic lounge when plans were made for the staging of the 1946 regatta, which will be held this year August 8 and 9. Judging from the interest shown by representatives of various city organizations. Under the guiding hands of Reg Eland, preliminary plans were fully discussed.

The Kelowna Aviation Council expects that by the end of August, the landing strip at Ellison will be available for use by planes, and that by the end of next June there will be a satisfactory grass strip, adequately marked, that will be licensed and available for all medium sized aircraft.

Children in hands of capable instructors

This year the children in Kelowna who enroll in the organized playground program will be in the capable hands of a trained staff of supervisors.

Programming and supervising is in the hands of Linda Ghezzi, last year's "boss," and Joan Van Ackeren, her co-supervisor. One assistant has been put on the roster so far—Betty Rae Clark.

Further volunteer assistants are being sought to handle the heavy enrollment anticipated.

The girls have a comprehensive program lined up, which includes organized swimming at the parks having the facilities, and games at all playgrounds.

Saturday picnics are also slated for the extra-curricular activities, with the first one set for Saturday, July 7. All children enrolled will go across the lake for a picnic.

It is hoped there will be a total enrollment of 400, with City Park being handled under the program as well this year. Last year the downtown park was handled by the lifeguards from the Aquatic due to the shortage of trained staff.

LIST TIMES

The schedule of parks now shows City Park to be operating every week-day morning from 10-12, and Strathcona Park to be Wednesday and Friday morning, 10-12, and Tuesday and Thursday afternoon, 2-4 p.m. Sutherland Park is Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 2-4. Osprey Park is Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, 10-12.

Linda, a Kelowna girl for all 20 years of her life, until three years ago when she entered UBC, was looking for some summer employment last year when the holidays were coming around. She wrote to KART offering her services. At that time, KART was looking for a like-ly girl.

Linda is entering her fourth year of arts at UBC next term, and is considering entering the faculty of education for her final year. She has been majoring in piano, and plans to have a career of teaching, preferably in music.

The shapely brunette worked in the Aquatic teaching swimming for four years, and worked two years as a lifeguard before obtaining the job as supervisor last year.

In spite of the rough spots created by shortages of help in the past, Miss Ghezzi said she loved her work, and looked forward to returning here for the summer.

There is no place like the Okanagan, Miss Ghezzi said. She would like to come back here eventually, once she has established herself as a teacher.

Miss Van Ackeren, a short and curvaceous 20 years old, lived in the Okanagan Centre for her early years, and went to school in Rutland, from Grade VII on. Her family has subsequently moved to Kelowna.

Her sister, Valerie, has worked in the Aquatic. Joan is majoring in physical education.

SHUTTLE CHAMPION

Miss Van Ackeren, who is a "Little Miss Five Foot Nothing," said she has had some amusing experiences teaching lumbering high school students, who were inclined to talk down to her until she showed her physical ability.

A splendid tennis and badminton player, Miss Van Ackeren intends to teach children the wrinkles of the court game. During her pre-college years, Miss Van Ackeren was the junior champion of B.C. in badminton.

It is her intention to teach in physical education, a study which she fell into accidentally, after she went to university and fell in love with the course.

DAWSON CREEK, B.C. (CP)—Two new sites south of here are being studied as possible locations for a new $40,000 municipal airport.

MARY ELLEN BOYCE CHAPTER 1006

Throughout the year our Chapter was very busy. We have an adopted school at Fort Nelson which has 55 pupils. We sent them 400 pounds of warm clothing as well as candy and school supplies, at Christmas and Easter. We attend rummage sales to get this clothing. We also buy material and wool which we make into shirts and knit warm mitts.

We also send parcels (food) to two old-age pensioners in England for which we receive very grateful thank you letters.

We donated a flag to the First Kelowna Cub Pack. At Christmas we made up a food hamper and gave this to a needy Kelowna family. We also gave 12 large spools of black and white sewing thread to the Senior Citizen's Home in Kelowna.

Our chapter serves refreshments at alternate monthly meetings of the White Cane Club. This is really appreciated by the members.

Donations were sent to the Solarium and to the Student's Assistance Fund.

Our big local endeavor was the Christmas TB Seals. This work is done voluntarily by our chapter.

and included addressing and filling of 4,000 letters sent to all residents of Kelowna and district. The results of this campaign were very good, and we collected $2,422.32. (Mrs.) Edna M. H. Gomis, Secretary
